CLASS DAY EXERCISES AT WOMAN'S COLLEGE

Campus, Where Discarded Books Are Burned.

ALUMNAE LUNCH AT JEFFERSON

Medals and Undergraduate Honors Awarded Last Night in Chapel by Rev. John W. Shnekford.

With a program, novel in its arrangement and unique in many features, the annual class day exercises of the Woman's College were observed on the campus yesterday. A feature was the planting of the class tree, which this year was in honor of Dr. F. C. Woodward. An enjoyable event was the annual bon-fire, into which the happy graduates tossed discarded to the works. textbooks and danced in the glare of Katherine Harney, of this city, was the orator of the day. The bondre oration was delivered by Miss Louise Langley, of Richmond, and the oration at the tree was made by Miss Violet Daughtrey. The last will and testament, the contribution of Miss Lillian Sayage the class lawyer, was one of Savage, the class lawyer, was one of the amusing features of the exercises.

The alumnae luncheon was given at the Jefferson Hotel at 1:30 o'clock, and was attended by a large gathering of members from all sections of the East.

The alumnae ceremones were featured by the presentation of a handsome loving cup and purse of gold to Miss Mary Carter Anderson, of the college faculty.

Miss Emma Morehead Whitfield was the toastmaster. The address of welcome to the class of 1914 was made by Miss Madge Eagby Pattee and the response by Miss Marguerite Stoltz.

Miss Anderson and Miss Elizabeth Harris, also of the Woman's College faculty, will spend the summer at Columbia University. The inscription on the loving cup presented Miss Ander-son reads: "A token of esteem, gratitude and love to Mary Carter Anderson from the alumnae of the Woman's College of Richmond. May 29, 1914." The medals and undergraduate honors were awarded in the college chapel last night by Rev. John W. Shackford, of the Broad Street Methodist Church

Miss June Shaner was awarded the gold medal for expression, and Miss Katherine Harney was awarded the undergraduate writer's medal. During the exercises, which were very brief, Dr. James Nelson made a short ad-dress in which he complimented the members of the classes for their work of the past season. Certificates and Diplomas Awarded.

Individual diplomas-Emily George Garrett, English; Lottie M. Dickenson, literature; Jessie Adelaide Nuckolls, English; Jessie Adelaide Nuckolls, literature; Hazel Lee Strang, literature; Hazel Lee Strang, English.

Art certificates—Emily George Gar-rett, Katherine Moore Harney. Expression—Frances Emma Tribble, Lilliane Savage, Jessie Adelaide olls, Minnie Belle Atkins, Mollie Law-

Following the awarding of the certificates the local chapter of the Phi Zeta Gamma Sorority was taken into the national organization by the Phi Mu Gamma. Miss Golds Heilman, na-tional inspector, conducted the instal-lation. This is the first scoretty of a national order which has gained a foot-ing at the Woman's College, and the advent was considered a progressive step by the student body. The final concert of the Woman's College commencement exercises will be given in the chapel at 8:30 o'clock to-night. The program follows: Overture, "Tannhauser" Wagner

Acting on the recommendation of the Inspector-General, Colonel Jo Lane Stern, Adjutant-General W. W. Sale yesterday ordered a complete and thorough investigation of the Highland Springs military company. The investigation was precipitated by the charges brought by Sergeant Lefew against his superior officer, in which the sergeant charged that the rolls of the company had been padded, and that there were other irregularities in the conduct of the command.

The matter as it stands is now in the hands of the Judge Advocate, Major Buford, and he will decide upon the course to be pursued in the investigatextbooks and danced in the glare of the destroying flames.

The exercises were presided over by Miss Camille Northcutt, president of the class of 1914. Miss Gladys Moody, of Tennessee, read the class history, while Miss Lena Wynne, taking the accomplishments of the various class members as noted by Miss Moody, offered the prophecies.

The class poem was read by Miss Grace Oakes, of South Carolina. Miss Grace Oakes, of South Carolina. Miss Katherine Harney, of this city, was Blues band are now being prepared. tion, it is said. All papers are now in his hands and it is said that officers of the command have been notified that

The ball opened with a German figure lead by Colonel Jo Lane Stern and Mrs. Price, assisted by twenty members each from the Blues and Grays, with forty handsomely gowned young women. A feature of the figure was a semi-military drill of the couples up and down the long room. At a signal from Colonel Stern, the couples paired off, and were joined in the opening waltz by the other waiting couples. raps was blown by two buglers just as the city bell began to boom out the midnight hour.
Richmonders will have an opportunity to see the new uniforms of the bat-talion to-day for the first time, when the four companies and the band participate in the annual Memorial Day parade. The battation has been or-dered to report at 3 o'clock this after-noon, and will leave the armory at 3:15 o'clock.

At this point in the interview, Colonel Roosevelt came out of his house and ran down the drive to where Mr. Robinson's motor was standing.

"I'm glad that Mr. Robinson is doing just what I was going to tell you," he declared to friends in the courtroom and smiled.

The prisoner was taken to the sher-fif's office and allowed five minutes with his wife. Prior to the passing of sentence Martin P. Manton, Becker's lawyer, cited ten reasons why the death sentence should not be pronounced. He said that an appeal would be filed next Monday. This will act as a stay of execution, and a year may clapse before the Court of Appeals hands down its decision.
